FORENSICS CONSULTING SOLUTIONS RECEIVES TOP HONORS

PHOENIX, AZ - AUG 1, 2008: Forensics Consulting Solutions, LLC, one of the premier providers of Electronic Discovery solutions, is proud to announce that they have, once again, received top honor awards for their use of the Attenex® Patterns® E-Discovery Software.

The awards were presented to Forensics Consulting Solutions, LLC, by Attenex, and FTI company, at the annual Attenex Advantage™ Partner Conference in Seattle in July 2008. Although the Phoenix based company is not the largest provider of e-discovery services, they continually receive top honors for large volume and multi-terabyte matters using Attenex software. This year's awards reflect the long and prosperous partnership that Attenex and FCS have enjoyed. Kelly "KJ" Kuchta, CEO of Forensics Consulting Solutions, was proud to receive the Larry Malcolm Service of Excellence Award on behalf of the company. KJ was also personally recognized as the Dot Evangelist Award recipient for his representation of the Attenex brand. In 2006 Mr. Kuchta was recipient of the Consultant of the Year award.

FCS also garnered awards for the Ten Terabyte Club for Attenex® Patterns® Workbench™ and the Five Terabyte Club for Attenex® Patterns® Document Mapper™, showing a continued growth over last year's awards for Two Terabyte for Workbench and One Terabyte for Document Mapper.

FCS was one of first companies to become a member of the Attenex Advantage™ Partner Program, and since then has processed more than 11 Terabytes of data using the Attenex tools. The more than five year relationship has resulted in astonishing growth for both companies, with Attenex recognizing FCS in 2005 for Volume Matters (the most matters processed through Attenex in one year), and Workbench Consultant of the Year being awarded to Anthony Cardine, FCS's Director of Project Management.

"FCS has earned these awards for their ongoing commitment to providing customers with the best services utilizing the best e-discovery tools in the market," said Kathryn Hardie, senior managing director for FTI. "The FCS team continues to raise the bar for e-discovery services and we're very proud to have them within our Attenex Advantage Partner Network."

The management of FCS is proud to count themselves as a member of Attenex's Advantage Partner Program and looks forward to continuing their relationship.
